OUR AGENTS.

The following persons are authorized to receive subscriptions and renewals, advertising in the HERALD, orders for job work, etc., etc.:

WILL COOPER, Cromwell.
EDGAR RILEY, Livermore.
DAVID ROGERS, Buford.
JNO. T. SMITH, Jr., Fordville.
S. P. BENNETT, Caneyville.
DR. G. R. SANDERS, Centertown.
WILLIE MAY, Haynesville.
J. B. HOCKER, Sutton.
T. C. FLOYD, Whitesville.
V. R. RAINS, Rosine.
HON. R. P. HOCKER, Beaver Dam.
W. A. GINSON, Caneyville.
MRS. NANNIE W. JONES, Horton.

PERSONALS.

Persons in town having visitors or any other item they would like in this column would confer a favor if they would inform this office. The town is not very large, but one hand can't get all over it every day and run a newspaper.

Persons visiting in town not seeing personal mention of themselves must remember the one they are stopping with did not feel interest enough in them to report at this office.

Mrs. Hatfield is visiting Mrs. A. P. Hudson.

Mr. Sylvester Haynes, living near Whitesville, was in town Monday.

Mr. C. W. Phillips, ex-sheriff, of Ellis' precinct, was in town Monday.

Mr. Warren L. Tums, of South Carrollton, was in town Friday afternoon.

Walter Allen has accepted a position in the grocery and saloon of Buck Collins.

Mr. Silas Joseph, of Lawrenceburg, was in the city the latter part of last week.

Mr. Wallace Rosson, living in the vicinity of Pattieville, was in town Monday.

Judge B. L. D. Guffy, of Morgantown, was registered at the Hartford House Friday.

We had a call from Mr. W. G. Fulkerson, wife, mother and sister of Slaty Creek, last week.

Messrs. B. P. Williams and J. C. Lynn, of Evansville, Ind., were doing the town last Wednesday.

Mr. J. C. Westfield has moved to the dwelling belonging to Mr. J. M. Klein, near Hartford College.

Mrs. Hill, of Greenville, and Miss Nettie Duncan, of McHenry, were visiting Mrs. J. S. Vaught the past week.

Messrs. N. G. Stanley and S. H. Mitchell, of Grissom's Landing, Ky., were at the Hartford House last Wednesday.

Prof. M. H. Rhoads went to Riceville Friday to see his mother, who met with a painful accident several days ago.

Mrs. E. A. Gordon and Mrs. Charlie Noel, of the Masonville neighborhood, Daviess county, are visiting relatives in Hartford this week.

Miss Helen Amendt has accepted a position in H. Small's Trade Palace. She will have special charge of the millinery department.

Isaac Souther is in town. He came from Rosine, and the fact that he still wears the old Miles O'ron what-is-it smile shows that he still in the ring.

Mr. G. S. Dean and wife, accompanied by Mr. John Phillips, are visiting friends and relatives at Rockvale, Breckinridge county, Ky., this week.

Little Maud Sanders, daughter of Dr. G. R. Sanders, of Centertown, spent last week in town visiting little Georgie and Daisy Kimbley. She visited the HERALD during her visit here.

Misses Effie Tichenor, Fern Rander, and Varnia Bell, young ladies from the Point Pleasant neighborhood arrived in town on Monday morning, and enrolled as students of Hartford College.

Mr. M. F. Brinkman, of Owensboro, was registered at the Hartford House Wednesday night. He was en route to Glasgow, Ky., where he will enter upon his duties in the Government service.

Dust, dusty, dustier.

Thomas & Kimbley is headquarters for paints.

The plank walks in Hartford need repairing.

Hartford College is booming. New students coming in daily.

Buck Collins took out license for his billiard saloon last Monday.

Job work of all kinds done at this office. Give us your patronage.

Remember that Tracy has the celebrated Farmers' wagon, the best wagon on wheels.

Mr. R. C. Hardwick, has rented the privileges at the fair grounds for this fair.

The flux epidemic in the Patti eville neighborhood is somewhat abating. No new cases reported up to this writing, and all those that have been sick are now reported convalescent.

It is just three weeks until our Fair begins. We are glad to note that a good many citizens of the county are preparing stock for the same. Everybody should bring something for exhibition.

Mrs. Wm. Hunter, of this place while stretching a clothes-line last week, fell and broke her thigh. Dr. Pendleton and Miller were called. When set the bones, and at this writing she is doing as well as could be expected.

Rev. Mr. Smith having made arrangements to preach another year at Beda, will also continue his labors at Hartford another year, preaching second Sunday in the month. Owing to the fact that the regular Presbyterian meets in October there will be no services here that month. His next appointment will be the second Sunday night in November.

JACOBS OIL

THE GREAT GERMAN REMEDY FOR PAIN.

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Backache, Headache, Toothache, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Headache, Toothache, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Headache, Toothache.

THE JACOBS OIL CO. CINCINNATI, O.

Remember you can buy a good sewing machine with cover for $20 at Anderson's Bazaar.

Rain is needed badly in this section.

A theatrical entertainment would prove a paying feature during fair week.

Buy a "Black Bass" cigar at Thom as & Kimbley's. They smoke delightfully.

Quite a number of new students matriculated in Hartford College Monday morning.

This is the first month with an R, and the delicious bivalves on half shell are now in season.

Liberal advertising insures success. Let your card be seen in every impression of the HERALD.

The new Board of Trustees were sworn in Monday morning, and entered upon their duty.

Extra fine quality Jersey Jackets just received and for sale at the price of common ones at Anderson's Bazaar.

An infant of Mr. Haden Miles, living near Rosson's store, this county, died last Friday night of flux.

Wanted, 500 bushels shelled bread corn at Hartford Water-Mills, for which market price will be paid in cash.

A moonlight dance at the brick yard of Messrs. Williams would be the "prophetic capital" for the young folks just now.

We invite the attention of our readers to the large, liberal advertisement of Anderson's Bazaar in this week's issue.

The Italian count and his little hand organ was grinding out "three times for a necktie" on our streets last Friday.

Messrs. Doyle & Greenwood are running their street-sprinkler. This should have been inaugurated several weeks ago.

Warren Barnett passed through town Monday morning with 144 head of sheep. He will ship from Beaver Dam to Louisville.

Just received at Anderson's Bazaar a lot of Jersey Jackets at two dollars and fifty cents. Same quality sold at $2.75 earlier in the season.

Mr. D. S. Duncan has opened a new livery stable at McHenry. Dave is an obliging gentleman, and his new venture will doubtless prove a success.

Charlie Felix went to South Carrollton but concluded he liked Hartford College best and returned on Sunday last, and on Monday morning was enrolled as a student of Hartford College.

One and one-half bottles of Ely's Cream Balm, entirely cured me of hay fever of ten years standing. Have no trace of it for two years. ALBERT A. PERKY, Smithboro, N. Y. 36-41.

A Good Templars' Lodge could easily be organized in Hartford, and its "inside workings" made so entertaining to the members that it would become a fixture. What say you to such an organization?

A protracted meeting is in progress at Goshen church. The result of the meeting so far has been two conversions and several penitents. The meeting is being conducted by Revs. R. C. Alexander and J. W. Taylor.

These cool mornings and nights remind the average benedict that the season for overcoats draweth near. And he swears great oaths at the Italian "count" who traded his wife a plaster-of-paris angel for his last winter's garment.

Buck Collins, in connection with his grocery and saloon, has opened a new and elegant billiard and pool room up stairs, and the patrons of this delightful retreat can now while away the hours pleasantly, and at the same time find anything to cheer the inner man. Give him a call.

The steady increase in the number of students at Hartford College is not only gratifying to its friends but speaks well for the principal, Prof. T. M. Mourning, and his assistants. Fifteen new students were enrolled on Monday morning last, and still more are coming. Success to Hartford College.

We call the attention of our readers to the "Famous New York Clothing House," corner Sixth and Market streets, Louisville, Ky. This house of long and established reputation, is now offering to the public the greatest bargains ever before offered in the city. When you go to the Exposition don't fail to call and examine their immense stock.

Several little negroes were detected in the act of stealing cigars from the wholesale liquor house of Geo. D. Mattingly & Co., in Owensboro last week. They were arraigned on the charge in the city court, but their cases were compromised by each receiving a sound lashing from their mothers in the presence of the crowd. This was a good move, and will doubtless prove more effectual than would have one or two years served in the penitentiary.

The promiscuous shooting about town after nightfall still continues.

Mr. S. D. Hay, the great spiritualist, will be in Hartford in a few days.

The colored school at Hayti, taught by Miss Mary E. Wilcox, commenced Monday.

Rev. Mr. Smith preached an able discourse at the Methodist church Sunday night.

A child of James Carden, living near Rosson's store, this county, died last Friday night of flux.

We have now ready for sale over 200,000 good bricks.

WILLIAMS BROS.

A little infant boy of Charles Campbell is very sick with brain fever. At this writing there is but little hope of his recovery.

Read the programme on the outside of this week's issue of the reunion of Company A, 1st Kentucky Cavalry at Sugar Grove church, Daviess county, Ky.

The citizens of Hartford have been feeding the editor of the HERALD on grapes. That's mighty poor brain food, but the editor stands up under it very well. Litchfield, Sauter.

Mr. A. Godshaw of Beda, called to see us last Monday. He was on his way to Louisville and Cincinnati, where he will purchase a large stock of goods for fair trade at his place. Persons in that vicinity will do well to await his arrival.

"Buck's Bend," in Hayti, was, we learn, prolific of a free-and-easy row among several colored parties Wednesday night, in which a saddle-colored mule struck his girl on the head with a stick. No further execution took place.

Mr. H. B. Taylor, of the new dry goods firm of H. B. Taylor & Co., will leave this week for Louisville to purchase a stock of goods for the new firm. Those wishing something new and nobby in his line would do well to await his return.

Professors Craig and Joy, violinists par excellence, made the air around the drug store of Z. Wayne Griffin vibrate with sweet sounds Wednesday night. Prof. Craig returned to his home in Owensboro Thursday, but Joy still lingers in our midst. So mote it be.

Mrs. J. S. Vaught has a fine milch cow about three year old, with young calf, for sale. Mrs. Vaught is milking one of the same stock which amply supplies her family and boarders—fifty to twenty in number—with milk, besides making some butter. Anyone wishing a good cow cannot do better than to call and see for themselves before purchasing elsewhere.

—W. T. King has on hand and for sale a large stock of buggies, spring wagons and farm wagons, all of the very best make, which will be sold at the very lowest rate. Call and examine his stock before purchasing elsewhere.

—Last Saturday eve Judge W. F. Gregory's was a scene of gaiety for the little folks. The occasion was the celebration of Miss Parkie's birth day.

We must say this little Miss is an anomaly so far as her admiration and love for the other sex is concerned. Her request was that in the invitations the little gallants were to be left out. And without any reserve whatever this goodly company enjoyed the music, dancing and refreshments to their hearts content. There is nothing more beautiful than the presence of the bright and happy smiles of the joyous little Misses.

NEW.

Just received at Z. A. Rosenberg's, dry goods, boots, shoes, hats, notions and furnishing goods. These goods will be sold extra cheap. Call and convince yourselves of it. Special LOW price on clothing.

Died, in Morley, Scott county, Mo., Aug. 28th, of typhoid fever, Katie Helen, only daughter of W. T. and S. D. Woodward, aged fifteen years, eleven months and twenty-two days. The subject of this notice was an interesting child from her earliest youth, always kind and obliging to every one. Her seat was never vacant in the house of God whenever she could be there. She also took great delight in the Sabbath school, which seemed to be her home. She loved her parents and little brothers devotedly and was a comfort to them in all their joys and sorrows. How sad the news to grand-parents, uncles and aunts in Kentucky, who were devotedly attached to her, and especially her grand ma, who was almost idolized her in the morning of life and her heart is sad, we know that she is safe from all the sorrows of this life. No more will we see her lovely face nor hear her welcome voice, but hope to meet her in a world where sorrow is unknown and friends are never parted. Dearest Katie thou hast left us, and our loss is deeply felt. But 'tis God who has bereft us. He can all our sorrows heal. ONE WHO LOVED HER.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS.

THE BEST TONIC.

Use only Brown's Iron Bitters made by Brown Chemical Co., Baltimore. Crossed red lines and trade-mark on wrapper.

—There was frost in this vicinity Monday morning.

A. Gae, Esq., will soon put in his annual appearance.

A grand hop should by all means be given during the fair.

—Delightfully cool and pleasant nights are the rule now.

The colored people gave a festival at Mintie Griffin's Saturday night.

Hartford can boast of as many pretty girls as any town of her size in the Union.

The burning of the kiln at Williams Bros' brick-yard nightly attracted many ladies and gentlemen last week.

Burial Robes.

Rev. G. J. Bean has in connection with his beautiful caskets, handsome burial robes for ladies and gentlemen. It would be impossible to describe to our readers the combined elegance, good taste and cheapness of these goods. A gentleman's robe consists of pants, coat, vest, shirt, collar, tie, cuff and even the sleeve buttons at far less than a good coat will cost elsewhere. While the robes for ladies and children are even more exquisite, being made from the latest designs and of a soft, cream or white cashmere, trimmed with folds or sherrings of satin, finished with bows and the finest of crepe rushing round the neck and sleeves. As a tribute to our loved ones, nothing could be more gratifying to our feelings than to see them embodied in one of these, and with tender hands laid on the downy pillow inside the casket that matches the robe.

The public is invited to call and see these new style costumes for our dead.

Beda Items.

BEDA, KY., Sept. 7, 1883.

Editor Herald:

Hot, dry and dusty.

A rain is much needed here.

Dr. Howard and family, after two years stay with us, have moved to their new home on Rough creek.

Rev. Mr. Stevens and wife were visiting relatives here this week; also R. Stevens and wife. Such visits are much appreciated.

J. Lee Chubb has the erysipelas in his left arm, which is thought to be as bad a case as we ever have of that kind.

Mrs. Wm. Johnson, who has suffered from a severe spell of sickness while on a visit above Hartford, and attended by Dr. Hoover, of this place, is now at home near Buford and able to about.

Miss Mollie Higgs, of Newville, has been visiting friends here for the past two weeks.

Prayer-meeting every Wednesday night.

Watermelons are a thing of the past, and the bad boys wear long faces.

A. L. Bennett does not mind his watermelons being stolen so bad, but he hates for them to break his tobacco in making their escape. Boys will get frightened.

Mr. Bennett has suffered much with sore eyes, but he is some better now.

We have heard it said that "crying was half feed," and from the looks of some of the corn fields, crying will be very necessary next season.

Apple-cuttings are very common and well attended by the young folks.

Stephen R. Bennett started for Florida last Monday, and will probably stay a short time. He will
